Admiral Arleigh A. Burke
Chief of Naval Operations
Department of the Navy
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Arleigh:

For some time I have been looking for a officer to fill a vacancy created by the retirement of Admiral [redacted] from the Board of National Estimates of this Agency. Admiral [redacted] has the highest of qualifications for this position and has advised me that he is prepared to accept it if he can be recalled to active duty.

As you doubtless know, the Board of National Estimates plays a key role in planning and producing National Intelligence Estimates; it is also my senior advisory staff in a broad range of substantive intelligence questions both military and nonmilitary.
For more than ten years the Board has been served by distinguished men from a variety of professions and experiences. I have always tried to have on the Board one senior member from each of the three Military Services, not to represent the official views of his Service, which I get in other ways, but simply to bring sound military judgment to bear on all of our intelligence problems. The value of the National Estimates depends greatly upon the breadth of experience and maturity of judgment of the members of this Board.

I am sure that [redacted] would make a contribution of the very highest order to the Board of National Estimates.
Accordingly, I would greatly appreciate it if he could be recalled to active duty for an indefinite period at the earliest possible date and assigned for duty with the C. I. A. We would, of course, reimburse the Navy for all costs incidental to this action. I have

Dear Admiral Felt:

25X1 Thank you for your letter of 9 December 1960 concerning [redacted]. It is indeed a pleasure to me to receive such a good report on one of my senior officers.

25X1 I appreciate your thoughtfulness in bringing to my attention [redacted] desire to attend the National War College for the 1961-1962 session. Our nominees for this course were selected in September 1960 and it is therefore too late to consider him for that session. We shall consider our nominations for the 1962-1963 session in September 1961 and will certainly include Colonel [redacted] name for consideration.

25X1 I would like to express again to you my appreciation for your words of praise for this officer.

Sincerely,

9 December 1960

Dear Mr. Dulles:

Mr. [redacted] has told me that [redacted] USA, his Deputy, will be departing this Command for reassignment in June 1961. [redacted] has mentioned that [redacted] has expressed a keen desire to be detailed by the Agency to the National War College for the school year 1961-62.

It is always a pleasure to be able to write a word of praise on someone. I desire to do so at this time. You, of course, are well acquainted with [redacted] who has been one of your senior hands on CINCPAC Staff during the past three and one half years. To me, the type of work [redacted] has been doing in this area is as important as any operation that we have. I attach major importance to this work and give it a great deal of personal attention.

In the two and one-half years I have been here I have had numerous occasions to talk with [redacted] and to see how he works. I doubt that it would have been possible to have anybody who displayed a greater degree of intelligence and patriotic cooperation than he has, while at the same time he was diligent in carrying out his own personal responsibilities in accordance with the mission assigned to him by you. I am sure that his attitude and work have been a major contribution to the overall effectiveness of our combined efforts in this very special and important activity.

I am confident that you will find him highly intelligent, skillful and diligent, and that his further career should be advanced to positions of higher responsibility and authority. I think that [redacted] nomination for the National War College would reflect great credit upon your organization and would further groom [redacted] for greater responsibility.

Sincerely yours,

W. D. Hall
